ABOUT ME

Hi! I'm Lea, a graphic designer with socio-anthropological background who likes converting more or less complex ideas into clean, people-centered designs. My background in anthropology and sociology inspires my curiosity about people and motivates me to research and understand their motivations and behavioral patterns. I thrive in collaborative environments and believe the best results come when we actively listen, adapt and always strive to improve.

SKILLS

TECH SKILLS Adobe Suite (Illustrator, Photoshop, InDesign), Affinity, Figma, Procreate, ChatGPT / Claude, Microsoft 365, HTML, CSS, JavaScript.

SOFT SKILLS Proactive problem-solving, ownership and accountability, active listener and clear communicator, creative, adaptable under pressure, organisational and leadership skills.

WORK EXPERIENCE

UX/UI DESIGN INTERN

Razum d.o.o. – Ljubljana, Slovenia
September 2025

- Shadowed senior designers on high-profile projects (Petrol and NLB apps/websites), gaining hands-on insight into professional UX/UI workflows.
- Designed a poster from concept to print and created icon sketches for a mobile game – delivering assets that were used in final development.
- Collaborated across design, development, and management teams, sharpening my ability to communicate ideas effectively in a fast-paced studio environment.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICE WORKER (Internship)

Department of Ethnology and Cultural Anthropology, University of Ljubljana – Ljubljana, Slovenia
April 2024

- Independently digitised and archived ethnographic materials from the 1960s, ensuring accurate metadata and long-term preservation.
- Developed strong organisational skills by restructuring the department's documentation system for easier retrieval.

CAFE MANAGER

CTD, d.o.o. – Ljubljana, Slovenia
2021

- Ran all daily operations single-handedly, managing revenue, serving 150+ online orders per day, and keeping customer satisfaction high.
- Redesigned the café's menu, combining creative layout with clear branding – a project that showcased my ability to merge design with business needs.
